Democrats Will Fight For Office

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—The scramble for office in the Sixty-second Congress, which will be controlled by the Democrats, has already begun, and everywhere the campaign for capturing the plums that are expected to be parceled out by the Democrats has assumed an interesting aspect. Although the Democratic House will not take possession of the situation until December, 1911, there are many employees around the Capitol who will feel the effects of the recent election when the present session of Congress ends on March 4 next.

There are four excellent positions which will be in the gift of the Democrats—clerk of the House, sergeant-at-arms, doorkeeper and postmaster—each with an attractive salary attached. The present clerk, Major McDowell, has already begun to pack bag and baggage, preparatory to leaving the Capitol next spring, and likewise Sergeant-at-Arms A. Casson, Door-keeper Lyon and Postmaster Samuel A. Langum are already on the move.

These are the four big places around the House end of the Capitol, although there are many other incidental positions of one kind and another. There must be appointed a secretary to the Speaker, which place is now held by L. White Busby; chaplain, superintendent of the document room, librarian and superintendent of the folding room.

When a new Sergeant-at-Arms is named to succeed Mr. Casson he will have a very large number of appointments to make in his department. All the messengers, majority and minority employees, deputies, laborers and others will come under his jurisdiction.

Doorkeeper Lyon likewise will have many good places to distribute, including a number of special employees and messengers.

The big scramble, however, is coming over the smaller places, and already it is apparent that there will be hundreds of applicants for the secretariats of the various committees of the House after the big places have been filled. There are sixty-one committees, and each must not only have a clerk, a messenger and assistants, but frequently special employees are placed on the rolls for one reason or another.

Then, in addition to these, there will be a multitude of special officers, policemen, janitors, messengers, etc., to be named for service in the House office building, where the members of the House are quartered when in Washington.

The only avowed candidate to show himself yet for any of the larger places is Representative Livingstone, of Georgia, who even before the Democrats were assured of control of the House, began a systematic canvass of the situation with a view to pulling in the desired plum. He is working with this colleagues in the hope of securing their indorsement when the first caucus is held next fall. It is understood, however, that many others are on their way to Washington for the purpose of placing their candidacies before the members of Congress, and that they will get in some effective work when the next session begins early next month.

The result in the East Tuesday, when so many new Democrats were elected, will make what is considered an embarrassing situation for Champ Clark if he is elected Speaker. It is recognized that in a distribution among the Democratic family most of the good places would go where the Democratic votes came from—the South—but Mr. Clark will have to take care of the places that have added so many to his party. The East and some sections of the West will claim recognition, just as much as the South, and it will be up to him to make the division of places on a fair and equitable basis.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill passed by Congress at each session makes liberal provision for the payment of the salaries of all employees, from the highest to the lowest, in fact this is generally one of the most liberal of all appropriation bills passed.

Not all of the present employees will be removed when the Democrats set hold of the House machinery, some retaining their positions through both Democratic and Republican administrations, but most of the 500 or more now carried on the rolls will feel the axe before the end of another year. Many will fall from soft berths and unless they have made provision for the "rainy day," they may be in sore straits before the G. O. P. again gets in power.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and I cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." John E. Jackson.

Three Students Expelled

Emory, Va., November 12.—Three students of Emory and Henry College—two from the junior and one from the freshman class, respectively were publicly expelled for practicing impositions on their fellow students. This extreme measure was not resorted to until repeated warnings had been given.

Heretofore this college has taken no decidedly active steps in this connection, but under the new administration, decisive action has been agreed by the authorities in charge to insure new men a "square deal" with no special privileges accorded to any by virtue of their longer residence in the shadow of the institution.

In the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of the county of Tazewell, on the 25th day of October, 1910.

Sarah E. Johnson, Plaintiff, against
Samuel B. Johnson, Defendant.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce from the bonds of matrimony in favor of the complainant, Sarah E. Johnson, from the defendant, Samuel B. Johnson, and for general relief.

An affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant Samuel B. Johnson is not resident of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear here within 15 days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect his interest in this suit. And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Clinch Valley News, a newspaper published in the county of Tazewell, and that a copy be posted at the front door of the court house of this county as the law directs.

Cyrus Simmons Rules

Rule 1. Don't lie—it wastes my time and yours. I'm sure to catch you in the end, and that's the wrong end.

Rule 2. Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a day's short work makes my face long.

Rule 3. Give me more than I expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

Rule 4. You owe so much to yourself that you can't afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shops.

Rule 5. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, can't see temptation when they meet it.

Rule 6. Mind your own business, and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

Rule 7. Don't do anything here which hurts your self respect. The employee who is willing to steal for me is capable of stealing from me.

Rule 8. It's none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do next day and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

Rule 9. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but I need lots of them for my dollars.

Rule 10. Don't kick if I kick—if you're worth while correcting you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting specks out of rotten apples.—Herbert Kaufman, in Printer's Ink.

Drunk Excitement

at Logan, W. Va., is a thing of the past. Everything is quiet now. Only many cases of liver, kidney and stomach trouble and rheumatism, all over the coalfields are being cured daily by a new remedy called Dr. J. C. Hatcher's Safe and Speedy Cure. It does the work quick and at a small expense. 35c and 75c per bottle. Recommended by Mr. Atkinson, druggist; Mr. Barlow, electrician; Mr. Bailey, storekeeper; Mr. Wills, Store clerk, Holden, W. Va.; Price Bros. Coal Co., Roanoke, Va.; and many others whose names we have no space for, but ask for a sample or regular size bottle only while they last.

This remedy is now 25c, while it lasts at Hatcher's, Tazewell, Va., and Richmond, Va., and elsewhere.

For Falling Hair

You Run No Risk When You Use This Remedy.

We promise you that, if your hair is falling out, and you have not let it go too far, you can repair the damage already done by using Rehall "93" Hair Tonic, with persistence and regularity, for a reasonable length of time. It is a scientific, cleansing antiseptic, germicidal preparation, that destroys microbes, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health. It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and it is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

We want you to try Rehall "93" Hair Tonic with our promise that it will cost you nothing unless you are perfectly satisfied with its use. It comes in two sizes, prices 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rehall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rehall Store. John E. Jackson, Druggist.

The Official Count

Bristol, Va., Nov. 12.—The official returns reflect Congressman C. B. Slemp in the Ninth Virginia district by a majority of 231. The majorities by counties of each of the two candidates follow:

	Slemp	Stuart
Lee,	162	275
Bristol City,	342	225
Scott,	214	150
Giles,	184	11
Wise,	38	10

District Lines May Be Changed

Inasmuch as the next Legislature will be called upon to redistrict the State as to congressional representation as a result of the Federal census of 1910, here is some discussion in political circles of the probability of rearranging the lines of the Fifth, Ninth, and probably other Virginia districts. This will be the result of the shifting of the population and not from any Democratic desire for a gerrymander.

No accurate forecast of just what will be done can be ventured until after Congress shall have designated the basis of representation. This, in turn, cannot be done until the census returns are announced in full. It is probable that this matter will be taken up at the coming short session.

Two facts present contending opinions on this point. One wishes to increase the membership of the House so as to leave the apportionment of voters to population as at present, while the other would require that more people elect each Congressman and leave the total membership as at present. Whatever may be done, it seems certain that the House chamber must be enlarged if the membership is to grow, since it is now crowded to what appears to be the limit.

Among the speculations which may be indulged in as to Virginia, it is possible that the lines of the Ninth District must be changed. The population of that section has grown at such an enormous rate within recent years, largely because of the industrial development, that a rearrangement may become a necessity. Should the State still have ten Congressmen, as at present, under the new arrangement, some of the counties must be taken from the Ninth. It is estimated that this district contains 60 per cent more people than does the Tenth, which is second among the Virginia districts as to population.

With ten Congressmen, it would be necessary to take Giles and Pulaski, and perhaps Bland and Wythe away from the Ninth. These counties constitute the Fifth Senatorial District, and gave Mr. Stuart a majority of about 450. Giles is always Democratic and Pulaski is close while Bland is about a tie, and Wythe has been largely Republican of late years. Of course, this arrangement would incidentally make the district hopelessly Republican.

In the event however that Congress decides to cut down the number of members of the House, and if this should result in the loss of a representative from Virginia, the district might not be changed at all. However, it would then be likely that some counties would be added to the Fifth which would probably be Democratic, perhaps solidifying that district. It would be the natural thing to do this, as the logical county to add is Halifax, which is heavily Democratic.

It is exceedingly improbable that Carroll or Grayson would be placed in the Ninth. To do this would require taking away a great many of the Ninth's counties, and besides their population is needed in the Fifth to make up the required number for a Congressman.

As before said, nothing approaching an estimate can be made until Congress acts, these deductions being speculative.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlains cough remedy is used. This remedy has won its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

And it appearing from affidavit on file in said office that defendant, W. F. Leap's Prolific Wheat.

The Most Prolific and Best of Milling Wheats

Yields reported from our customers from twenty-five to fifty-two bushels per acre. When grown side by side with other kinds this splendid seedling wheat yielded from five to eighteen bushels more per acre on same land and under same conditions as other standard wheats.

Wherever grown it is superseding all other kinds and it should be sown universally by wheat growers everywhere.

In the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of the county of Tazewell on the 29th day of October, 1910.

S. W. Kent, Plaintiff,
against
John R. French, F. H. Hilt, Adm'r of A. P. French, dec'd, Mrs. Julia Caudill (nee French), Mrs. Jennie Moore (nee French), Mrs. Jennie Williams (nee French), Mrs. Fannie Whitehead (nee French), Mrs. Ella Boothe (nee French), Mrs. Mertie Anderson (nee French) George A. French, and James N. French, Defendants.

The object of this suit is to enforce the lien of a judgment of the circuit court of Tazewell county, Virginia, rendered at the December term, 1902, in favor of the complainant against John R. French for $104.76, with interest thereon from the 2nd day of October, 1901, until paid, and $7.80 costs, and to subject to said judgment the interest of said defendant, John R. French, in the personal and real estate which descended to him from the estate of his father, A. P. French, who died a citizen and resident of Tazewell county, Virginia, and intestate.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendants Mrs. Julia Caudill (nee French), Mrs. Jennie Moore (nee French), and Mrs. Jennie Williams (nee French), are not residents of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that they do appear here within 15 days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect their interest in this suit. And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Clinch Valley News, a newspaper published in the county of Tazewell, and that a copy be posted at the front door of the court-house of this county as the law directs.

For Falling Hair

You Run No Risk When You Use This Remedy.

We promise you that, if your hair is falling out, and you have not let it go too far, you can repair the damage already done by using Rehall "93" Hair Tonic, with persistence and regularity, for a reasonable length of time. It is a scientific, cleansing antiseptic, germicidal preparation, that destroys microbes, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health. It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and it is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

We want you to try Rehall "93" Hair Tonic with our promise that it will cost you nothing unless you are perfectly satisfied with its use. It comes in two sizes, prices 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rehall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rehall Store. John E. Jackson, Druggist.

The Official Count

Bristol, Va., Nov. 12.—The official returns reflect Congressman C. B. Slemp in the Ninth Virginia district by a majority of 231. The majorities by counties of each of the two candidates follow:

	Slemp	Stuart
Lee,	162	275
Bristol City,	342	225
Scott,	214	150
Giles,	184	11
Wise,	38	10
